2018 USA World Cup Team Notes

What's at Stake?

Winners of the past two FIBA World Cups, the USA Basketball Women's National Team is hoping to make it three in a row later this month. Not only has the USA never claimed three-straight World Cup gold medals, but the winner of the 2018 World Cup earns an automatic berth into the 2020 Olympic Games.

By the Numbers

The 2018 USA World Cup Team own a combined:

- 628-35 (.947) record in games played in a USA Basketball jersey (through 9/23/18 vs. China); ( CORRECTED **)
- 47 gold medals, 2 silver medals and 3 bronze medals in major international 5x5 events; and
- 1 gold medal in major international 3x3 events.

Sue Bird	131- 5
Tina Charles	74- 6

Diana Taurasi	121- 6
Morgan Tuck	44- 2

First Timer

Should the USA claim gold in Tenerife, Jewell Loyd, who earned a gold medal at the 2014 FIBA 3x3 World Cup, would become the first player in history to garner gold at both of FIBA's senior-level World Cups.

Nearing the 10K Mark

The USA Basketball Women's World Cup Teams through the years compiled 9,639 points heading into the 2018 competition. With its 187 points in its first two games, bringing the USA's all-time point total to 9,826, the 2018 USA squad needs to score 174 points to bring the USA's all-time point total to a record 10,000 points.

A Rare Trio

FIBA has never before listed three former U19 World Cup MVPs on a World Cup roster -- until this year. The USA trio of Nneka Ogumike (2009), Breanna Stewart (2013) and A'ja Wilson (2015) make up the tri-fecta.

Who Picks the Team?

USA Basketball Women's National Team director Carol Callan chairs the USA Basketball Women's National Team Player Selection Committee, which includes three-time Olympic and two-time World Cup gold medalist Katie Smith as the athlete representative; representing the WNBA is Connecticut Sun head coach Curt Miller and Los Angeles Sparks general manager Penny Toler; and University of Connecticut head coach Geno Auriemma, who coached USA teams to gold medals at the past two Olympics and FIBA World Cups, serves as a special advisor.

USA Basketball Honors

Ten of the past USA Basketball Female Athlete of the Year honors have been earned by five members of the 2018 USA World Cup Team finalists, including head coach Dawn Staley, who garnered the award in 1994 and 2004. Diana Taurasi (2006, 2010, 2012, 2016) is tied with five-time Olympian Teresa Edwards for the most, earning the honor four times in her illustrious career. Breanna Stewart also is a multiple award winner, earning USA Athlete of the Year in 2011 and 2013, while Tina Charles (2009) and A'ja Wilson (2015) round out the list.

USA Basketball Experience

Every member of the 2018 USA World Cup Team has one at least one international tournament title playing for USA Basketball in international competitions. The top-rated gold medals of course were earned at either the Olympic Games or FIBA World Cups by Sue Bird, Tina Charles, Elena Delle Donne, Brittney Griner, Nneka Ogumike, Breanna Stewart and Diana Taurasi. However, before taking part in those competitions, most athletes play for USA Basketball in junior-level events such as the FIBA Americas U16 Championship or FIBA U19 World Cup.

2018 USA World Cup Team Notes

Remembering Anne Donovan

USA Basketball celebrates the life of Anne Donovan, who played on her first USA Basketball team in 1977, and passed away June 13, 2018. During her Hall of Fame, 31-year USA career, she was a member of five U.S. Olympic teams and four USA World Championship teams as an athlete and coach, culminating in leading the 2008 U.S. Olympic Team to gold as our head coach in Beijing.

She used to say she bled red, white and blue.

As much as we remember her accomplishments in the game, we mourn a dear friend who will be greatly missed.

As a player and coach, Donovan spanned several generations of the USA Basketball Women's National Team program, competing alongside, playing for and coaching numerous Hall of Fame inductees.

Donovan was 17 when she played on her first USA Basketball team at the 1977 R. William Jones Cup. While her team went 3-4 and finished in fifth place, it was the only competition in which she played or coached without returning home with a medal.

A two-time gold medalist at the 1978 and 1979 U.S. Olympic Festivals, Donovan earned a spot on the 1980 U.S. Olympic Team. The team, which did not compete at the 1980 Moscow Olympics, traveled to the 1980 FIBA Olympic Qualifying Tournament where the USA claimed gold, putting the world on notice that the Americans would have been strong contenders for gold in Moscow.

Donovan went on to play in two Olympic games, claiming gold medals in 1984 and 1988 and two FIBA World Championships, striking gold in 1986 and silver in 1983.

In all, she won 10 gold medals and two silver medals while compiling a 69-8 overall record as an athlete.

Perhaps her most memorable summer was 1986, which she noted many years later as the summer in which the tide turned for the USA women's program.

The 1986 USA Goodwill Games team claimed the gold medal in July in Moscow, defeating the Soviets 83-60 in the gold medal game in a warm-up for the upcoming FIBA World Championship, held in August and also in Moscow. The two powers entered the gold medal game with matching, 6-0 records. The USA wanted to prove that the Goodwill Games gold medal was no fluke and did so by running past the USSR 108-88 for gold.

"We had gone there earlier in the summer for the Goodwill Games and won gold medal," recalled Donovan in a 2006 USA Basketball feature. "But, everybody attributed that to 'well they weren't really playing, wait until the World Championship.' So to go back to Russia and beat them twice in the same summer, that's when the guard changed. The U.S. women were now the best of the best and from that point on we've been running."

As an assistant coach, Donovan helped lead USA teams to gold at the 2004 Olympic games, and the 1998 and 2002 World Championships, as well as a silver medal at the 1997 FIBA

Americas World Championship Qualifying Tournament. Including exhibition games, Donovan assisted USA teams to a 58-2 mark.

Named the head coach for the 2006-08 USA Basketball Women's National Team, Donovan piloted the team to a 57-6 record, culminating in the 2008 Olympic gold medal run, which saw the U.S. earn an 8-0 record and the USA's fourth-straight Olympic gold. During her stint as head coach, she also headed up the 2006 USA World Championship Team that returned home with the bronze medal and led the USA to gold at the 2007 FIBA American Championship.

In all, Donovan claimed 16 gold medals, five silver medals and one bronze medal in various competitions during her illustrious career, but her impact on the game is more than a collection of medals.

Her grace, friendship and passion for life will live on in our memories.

2018 USA World Cup Team Notes

The 12 USA team members have earned some notable honors playing for USA Basketball in international tournaments.

Sue Bird: 2006 FIBA World Cup Best Guard.

Brittney Griner: 2014 FIBA World Cup All-Star Five.

Nneka Ogumike: 2009 FIBA U19 World Cup MVP.

Breanna Stewart: 2013 FIBA U19 World Cup MVP and All-Star Five, 2012 FIBA Americas U18 Championship MVP, 2011 All-FIBA U19 All-Star Five.

Diana Taurasi: 2010 All-FIBA World Cup Team, 2008 FIBA Diamond Ball All-Tournament Team, 3-point trophy winner at the 2006 FIBA World Cup, 2001 FIBA All-Junior World Cup (U19) Team.

A'ja Wilson: 2015 FIBA U19 World Cup and All-Star Five, 2014 FIBA Americas U18 Championship MVP.

Crank it up to 11

Prior to this year's WNBA Finals, there were only 10 players in USA history who had won the four major championships in U.S. women's basketball: an Olympic gold medal, FIBA World Cup gold medal, WNBA title and NCAA title. Those 10 are: Sue Bird, Swin Cash, Tamika Catchings, Cynthia Cooper, Asjha Jones, Brittney Griner, Maya Moore, Sheryl Swoopes, Diana Taurasi and Kara Wolters.

With the Seattle Storm's 2018 WNBA championship, Breanna Stewart brings that exclusive club to 11.

Taking into account Anne Donovan's college titles at Old Dominion, Olympic and World Championship golds as a player, and her WNBA title as a coach, she also deserves mention here.

Record Setter

Sue Bird already has the USA record for most World Cup teams, and has won three gold (2002, 2010, 2014) and one bronze (2006) medal in her four World Cup appearances. Should she claim another medal in 2018, she would become the only person in history with five FIBA World Cup medals. In fact, Bird already owns more hardware than any of the eight women and one man who have participated in five World Cups. Further, she sits atop the medal board among all World Cup participants in history. Bird is the lone female among four-time medalists, and the three men who have earned four World Cup medals have only two golds apiece.

The Numbers Game

- The USA's World Cup winning streak is 18-0, dating from the 2006 bronze medal game through the USA's opening victory over Senegal in Tenerife.
- The USA's Olympic winning streak is 49-0, dating from the 1992 bronze medal game through the 2016 gold medal game.
- In the past 22 years, the highly successful USA Basketball Women's National Team program, currently ranked No. 1 in the world by FIBA, has posted an 96-1 slate in major international competitions, winning an amazing six consecutive Olympic gold medals (1996, 2000, 2004, 2008, 2012, 2016), four FIBA World Championship golds (1998, 2002, 2010, 2014), one FIBA World Championship bronze medal (2006) and one FIBA Americas Championship gold medal (2007), and including its 2-0 slate in Tenerife.

2018 WNBA Honors

Not Always as Easy as it Seems

Many people might look at the USA's overall record and medal count at the FIBA World Cup and assume the USA is never really tested. That couldn't be further from the truth. Take a look at some of the tough contests the U.S. squad played over the past five World Cups.

1998 FIBA World Championship (9-0)

Margin of victory: +19.0 ppg. (84.1 ppg. to 65.1 ppg.)

- USA 95, JPN 89: After taking a 44-33 lead at half, the USA faltered, and Japan tied the game 52-52 with 15:51 to play. But the U.S. fought back and earned the six-point win.
- USA 79, ESP 68: The USA was up only 37-33 at halftime and was never able to put Spain away, but earned the 11-point win.

The U.S. twice cut the deficit to three points twice in the second quarter, but the Russians went to the locker room ahead 37-32. Russia completely controlled the third period and outscored the U.S. 21-6 and went up 58-38 with 10 minutes to play. Medal Haul

Sue Bird and Teresa Edwards are the most decorated FIBA athletes on the planet with both earning a combined eight Olympic and World Cup medals. Bird, who owns the most gold medals in history at the two events combined, has seven gold medals and one bronze, while Edwards has six gold medals and two bronze at the two international majors.

Currently listing in the second spot with seven are Tamika Catchings (four Olympic, three World Cup medals), Lisa Leslie (four Olympic, three World Cup medals) and Diana Taurasi (four Olympic, three World Cup medals); while Katrina McClain, Katie Smith, Dawn Staley and Sheryl Swoopes have earned a total of six medals each at international basketball's top two events.

Should they medal in 2018, Bird would sit alone in the top spot, while Taurasi would join Edwards in second.

While the USSR did not compete in that tournament, the USA's gold let the world know the Americans would have been in medal contention in Moscow.
